Collecting WiFi names at every stop of bus M41 in Berlin on my way from Sonnenallee to StaBi at Potsdamer Platz and back. Complementing Jaques Jouet's metro poems, a busssid poem has as many verses as there are stops on the line. Activate the WiFi of your phone whenever the bus stops at a station and take a screenshot of the list of names, thus mapping the invisible possibilities of connection – usually locked. If you miss a station you have to exit at the next stop, walk back and reenter (happened twice). If the bus skips a station, it is always a delicate situation in the writing of a busssid poem.

S Sonnenallee, Mareschstr., Hertzbergplatz, Geygerstr., Fuldastr., Sonnenallee/Pannierstr., U Hermannplatz/Sonnenallee, < U Hermannplatz/Urbanstr., Jahnstr., Graefestr., Körtestr., Klinikum Am Urban, Urbanstr./Baerwaldstr., Tempelherrenstr., Blücherstr., > Zossener Brücke, U Hallesches Tor, Willy-Brandt-Haus, S Anhalter Bahnhof, Abgeordnetenhaus, S+U Potsdamer Platz
