

no sperrer
witches & bitches

salbei, sa
steinklee, meli
berberitzen, ber
rhabarber, rheum rh lebensbaum, thuja o
haselwurz, asarum eu
schafgarbe, achillea
petersilie, petroseli
rainfarn, tanacetum v leberblümchen, hepati
engelwurz, angelica arc johanniskraut, hypericum p wermut, artemisia absint faulbaum, rhamnus fran kühchenschellen, puls sadebaum, juniperus s
echte arnika, arnica poleiminze, mentha p
aloe vera, aloe bab
raute, ruta graveol
beifuß, artemisia
bärenklau, hera
zimt, cinnamo

lvia, sage

ilotus, melilot

beris, barberry

abarbarum, rhubarb

ccidentalis, thuja

ropaeum, asarabacca

millefolium, yarrow

num crispum, parsley

ulgare, common tansy

ca nobilis, liverwort

hangelica, wild celery

erforatum, st john's-wort

hium, absinthe wormwood

gula, alder buckthorn

atilla, pasque flower

abina, savin juniper

montana, wolf's bane

ulegium, pennyroyal

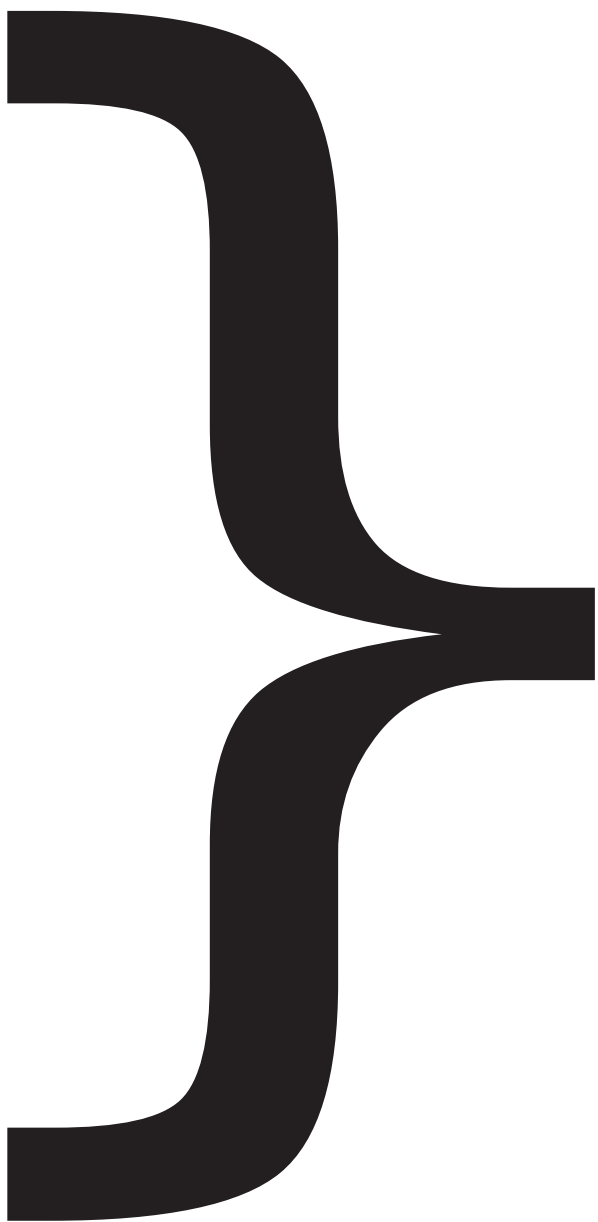

atiensis, aloe vera

ens, herb-of-grace

vulgaris, mugwort

cleum, hogweed

mum, cinnamon

"If we consider the historical context in which the witch-hunt occurred, the gender and class of the accused, and the effects of the persecution, then we must conclude that witch-hunting in Europe was an attack on women's resistance to the spread of capitalist relations and the power that women gained by virtue of their sexuality, their control over reproduction, and their ability to heal."

Silvia Federici: Caliban and the Witch. Women, the Body and Primitive Accumulation. Brooklyn, NY, Autonomedia 2004, p. 170

a list of common abortifacient herbs

190921ms_sync2_38_({}).pdf
